INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Yellowstone Academy, Inc.
Houston, Texas

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Yellowstone Academy, Inc., a non-profit organization, which comprise the statements of assets and net assets - modified cash basis as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, and the related statements of revenues and expenses and changes in net assets - modified cash basis and functional expenses – modified cash basis for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the assets and net assets of Yellowstone Academy, Inc. as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, and the revenues and expenses and changes in net assets for the years then ended in accordance with the basis of accounting Yellowstone Academy, Inc. uses for accounting purposes described in Note A.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Yellowstone Academy, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis of Accounting

We draw attention to Note A of the financial statements, which describes the basis of accounting. The financial statements are prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with the modified cash basis of accounting described in Note A, and for determining that the modified cash basis of accounting is an acceptable basis for the preparation of the financial statements in the circumstances. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Yellowstone Academy, Inc.'s internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Yellowstone Academy, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTE A BASIS OF PRESENTATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Yellowstone Academy, Inc. (Yellowstone), dba Yellowstone Schools, was incorporated as a not-for-profit organization in August 2001 for the purpose of establishing a high quality private Christian Academy exclusively serving low-income children in Houston's inner city.

Basis of Accounting - The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles. Income is recognized when received and expenses are recognized when paid. Modifications to the cash basis of accounting exist for the recording of other assets and for the recording of in-kind contributions and their related expenses.

Basis of Presentation - Yellowstone reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: without donor restrictions and with donor restrictions. These net assets classifications are described as follows:

Without Donor Restrictions - not subject to donor-imposed restrictions. Net assets without donor restrictions may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Directors.

With Donor Restrictions - subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may be fulfilled by actions of Yellowstone to meet the stipulations or become unrestricted at the date specified by the donor or are to be retained and invested permanently.

Management's Estimates - Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could vary from estimates that were used.

Concentrations of Credit Risk - Financial instruments which subject Yellowstone to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents. Yellowstone places its cash and cash equivalents with high credit quality financial institutions. Deposits with these financial institutions may exceed the amount of federal deposit insurance provided on such (approximately $3,016,000 at June 30, 2024); however, these deposits typically may be redeemed upon demand and therefore bear minimal risk.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - Cash and cash equivalents include demand deposits, money market accounts, and insured cash sweep accounts, including cash restricted by donors for long-term purposes.

Fixed Assets - It is Yellowstone's policy to expense all purchases and donations of property when acquired. The estimated fair value of donated property and equipment are recognized as unrestricted contributions unless the donor has restricted the donated asset to a specific purpose or specified how long the donated assets must be maintained.

Contributions of cash that are restricted for the acquisition of fixed assets are reported as donor restricted and in keeping with the accounting policies of Yellowstone under the modified cash basis of accounting, are released from restrictions when expenditures are made.

Contributions - Contributions are recognized when collected. Contributions that are restricted by the donor for future periods or a specific purpose are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions. When a restriction expires, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statement of revenues and expenses as net assets released from restrictions.

Revenue Recognition - All support and revenue is recognized when cash is received.

Donated Securities - Yellowstone periodically receives donations of securities, which are recorded at their fair value on the date of the donation. Yellowstone's policy is to immediately sell donated securities minimizing gains and/or losses realized on the donated securities.

In-Kind Contributions - Donated assets, materials and use of facilities are recognized at fair market value, using prices of identical or similar products or services in the United States, as contributions and expense when received from the donor. Yellowstone uses volunteers in all of its various programs. Contributions of services which would typically need to be purchased are recognized either when services received create or enhance nonfinancial assets or are provided by individuals possessing specialized skills. Yellowstone utilizes and does not monetize their in-kind contributions. (See Note J).

Shared Services Revenue, net - Shared services revenue results from an arrangement with Yellowstone College Prep (YCP) whereby Yellowstone is reimbursed for certain expenses and is net of grants paid to YCP (See Note G).

Income Taxes - Yellowstone is a not-for-profit organization that is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and classified by the Internal Revenue Service as a private school. As of June 30, 2024, the tax years that remain subject to examination by the major tax jurisdictions under the statute of limitations are from fiscal year 2021 forward (with limited exceptions). Tax penalties and interest, if any, would be recorded when paid and would be classified as management and general expense in the statement of revenues and expenses and changes in net assets - modified cash basis.

Functional Expenses - Yellowstone records expenses directly to the applicable program or support function as much as possible. Salaries and benefits are charged directly based on individual employee departmental classification and/or schedule. Expenses related to occupancy and capital expenditures are allocated based on square footage. All other expenses which cannot be directly identified with a specific program or support function are allocated based on estimated usage percentages.

NOTE A BASIS OF PRESENTATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Subsequent Events - Yellowstone has evaluated subsequent events through February 6, 2025, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

As further discussed in Note D, Yellowstone renewed a line of credit in December 2024, effective July 2024.

Other than subsequent commitments disclosed in Note I, no other subsequent events occurred which require adjustment or additional disclosure to the financial statements at June 30, 2024.

NOTE B EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

Yellowstone has a Simple IRA plan available to all employees to which it makes matching contributions up to 3% of a participating employee's salary. During fiscal 2024 and 2023, Yellowstone's matching contributions amounted to $37,918 and $40,006, respectively.

NOTE C SPECIAL EVENTS

Yellowstone hosts several special events each year. These events include the Party in the Park, and Spring Golf Tournament. The goals of these events are to encourage volunteer interest, to solicit donations, and to increase awareness of Yellowstone's mission and programs to existing and potential donors.

NOTE D DEBT

In accordance with the modified cash basis of accounting, it is Yellowstone's policy to recognize proceeds on the issuance of debt as loan proceeds income when received and recognize all repayments of debt as an expense when disbursed.

Yellowstone has a line of credit with a bank which provides for maximum borrowings of $1,200,000 which matured on July 31, 2024 and was renewed under essentially the same terms through November 30, 2026. The agreement provides for interest on outstanding borrowings at the prime rate plus a commitment fee on the average daily unused portion of the commitment at the rate of 0.25% per annum. The loan is collateralized by land and buildings. There were no borrowings during fiscal years 2024 and 2023. There was no outstanding balance at June 30, 2024 and 2023. Yellowstone paid interest and commitment fees amounting to $3,050 and $3,033 during fiscal years 2024 and 2023, respectively.

The loan agreement requires Yellowstone's audited financial statements to include a cash flow statement and be presented no later than 180 days after the end of the fiscal year. Both of these requirements have been waived for the year ended June 30, 2024.

Yellowstone entered into a promissory note agreement with the City of Houston during fiscal year 2023. As of June 30, 2024, Yellowstone had borrowings outstanding of approximately $100,000, which was paid in January 2025. As a part of the agreement, Yellowstone granted approximately $676,000 of rental credits to the City of Houston, which none have been used.

NOTE G RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN YELLOWSTONE ACADEMY AND YELLOWSTONE COLLEGE PREP

Recognizing the need for private school education for middle and high school students, in fiscal 2018, the Board of Directors established a public/private model. Yellowstone continues to operate as a faith-based preK-5th grade elementary school and is co-located in the same building with YCP, a public charter school that will grow to serve students 6th-12th grade.

After formation, an independent Board of Directors was established for YCP. Yellowstone and YCP entered into a shared services agreement approved by the Boards of both schools that defines the shared services. Shared services include rent for YCP occupancy, shared instructional staff, student transportation, and shared business services. Grant disbursements represent gifts for which Yellowstone acted as the fiscal agent and disbursed gifts accepted on behalf of YCP and grants made directly from Yellowstone to YCP.

During fiscal years ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, shared services revenue consists of the following:

	2024	2023
Administrative Personnel	$ 281,138	$ 133,232
Instructional Personnel	35,559	20,520
Rent	564,613	135,029
Transportation	117,981	40,565
Grant Disbursements	(200,000)	(14,849)
Total Revenue from Shared Services, net	$ 799,291	$ 314,497

NOTE H LIQUIDITY AND AVAILABILITY

Yellowstone manages its cash flows through the adherence of budgets created annually and reviewed quarterly. Yellowstone generally relies on contributions from donors, grants and program service fees to fund its on-going operations. In addition, the Capital Campaign includes approximately $2,700,000 of funds which may be released for operational sustainability upon approval of the Finance Committee. Yellowstone has historically experienced a cyclical pattern of donations in conjunction with fundraising events. Yellowstone has a revolving line of credit with available borrowings of up to $1,200,000. Contribution receivables, which are not recorded in the financial statements prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting, are also available to meet future operating expenses.

The following represents Yellowstone’s financial assets, as of June 30, available to meet general expenditures over the next twelve months:

	2024	2023
Cash without restrictions	$ 255,360	$ 182,266
Current operating contributions receivable (unaudited)	159,201	99,000
Financial assets available to meet general expenditures over the next twelve months:	$ 414,561	$ 281,266

NOTE I COMMITMENTS

Amounts received from government and other grants require the fulfillment of certain conditions as set forth in the grant contracts. Yellowstone intends to fulfill the conditions of all grants, recognizing that failure to fulfill the conditions could result in the return of the funds to grantors. Amounts received from grantor agencies are subject to audit and adjustment by the grantor agencies. Any disallowed claims, including amounts already collected, could become a liability of Yellowstone. In management’s opinion, disallowed claims, if any, would not have a material adverse effect on Yellowstone’s financial position or results of operations.

Yellowstone entered into an agreement with a construction company related to the construction and renovations supported by the Capital Campaign, discussed in Note F, of approximately $19,570,000 million as of June 30, 2024, of which approximately $19,320,000 has been paid as of June 30, 2024.

During 2023 and 2024, Yellowstone also entered into agreements for long term employment for a single employee, student meal services and property management services with approximately $697,000 unpaid as of June 30, 2024. Future payout for these commitments is approximately $419,000 in 2025, $130,000 in 2026, and $148,000 in 2027.

In May and September 2024, commitments were made for administrative and accounting assistance totaling approximately $141,000 to be paid in 2025.
